Just Vision

To support Just Vision to develop a screening guide and lesson plans to accompany the documentary film about Palestinian and Israeli civilians at the vanguard of a grassroots movement for peace. The materials will focus on how one can be an agent of change within the framework of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and how one can apply the lessons learned to his or her own community. Just Vision will hire an Education and Outreach coordinator to create and implement an outreach plan, connect Just Vision's film with students, teachers, community organizations, and the general public, and work with high school teachers and faculty from Columbia's Teacher's College to design user-friendly comprehensive resources about the spectrum of grassroots peace work in the Middle East. Just Vision will also further develop the website, justvision.org, to inform audiences about events featuring Israeli and Palestinian peace builders as well as local channels for learning and involvement.
